Messages

We hope that you had a wonderful half term and are well rested. It is really lovely to see all of you again and although we are going to have another busy term, but we know that you will have fun.

This weekend, you might see some fireworks. Remember to stay safe and let adults handle the fireworks, as they can be quite dangerous. Do you know why we have Bonfire Night?

Moving forward, we are not going to print out the homework sheet unless there is something that needs to be written. This is our mission to save paper and our planet. All homework will be uploaded onto the year 4 page on our school website. Please do take the time each week, to see what has been set for homework. Thank you for your co-operation and understanding.

Oh, and did you know that there are only 51 days till Christmas? Where does the time go?

Have a lovely weekend!
