A website to help with arithmetic.

If your child has struggled with a particular question in the CGP Homework books, please write a note on the page to inform the class teacher.

To promote independence and support a smooth transition to secondary school, Year 6 pupils are responsible for keeping their homework books with them at all times. On the day homework is due, pupils are informed of the next pages to complete and are then given one week to finish the tasks. While pupils have the flexibility to complete their homework at any point during the week, they are encouraged to follow the established homework timetable to develop effective time-management skills and to space out their workload appropriately.
